When God wanted Gideon to bring an army to take on the enormous Midianite army, he brings 32,000 men (Judges 7). Although not as sizeable as the Midianites, it's enough for Gideon to be comfortable with leading the charge. God has other plans. Who Was Gideon in the Bible? His Story and Significance There were only 300 men, but God said that He would be with them to beat the Midianites. God instructed Gideon to take his servant and go down into the valley where the Midianites were camped. They had so many people in the camp "like locusts" and so many camels; they were like "sand on the seashore!"
